

Celebrations that drive India 2025

A drive through India is a journey through a land where life is an unending celebration. Big and small, rooted in culture or created in the moment, every corner here offers its own flavour of festivities, rituals, and customs. For almost three decades, Hyundai has been part of this journey. Often, taking people to where celebrations are. At times, even shaping them. This year, join us as we travel through a few of the many moments of celebrations that unite our great country, India.

A flight of colour X CRETA | Uttarayan marks the coming of summers after a long winter. Celebrated as the International Kite Flying Festival, Gujarat's rich culture takes to the skies, as kites of many shapes, sizes, and forms dance against the bright blue. Making the eyes of the entire world look up at this marvel.

Grace in motion X VERNA | Dances are an integral part of festivities. But some are themselves a celebration. Like Bharatnatyam, the exquisitely beautiful and expressive dance form from the land which is Hyundai's home. Every single movement of Bharatnatyam is a celebration of India's rich heritage, and every car that rolls out of our factory is a celebration of the journeys through it.

Covered in celebrations X EXTER | Holi, the festival of colours, is celebrated with great enthusiasm across northern India. The painting captures the vibrant celebration, with friends immersed in laughter, dancing to music, and playing with watercolours. Each brushstroke conveys the energetic spirit of the festival that defines Holi.

What unites India X i20 | In India, cricket is more than a sport; it's a religion. It's played in the narrow lanes of cities, on beaches, and in parks capturing the essence of India's undying love for the game. The painting captures kids playing cricket in the bustling lanes of Mumbai, evoking nostalgia and bringing childhood memories to life for all who see it.

Ready for the roads X VENUE | Dhabas along highways are more than just stopovers on long journeys; they often become destinations in themselves. The larger-than-life figures and towering lassi glasses in the painting symbolise how these dhabas are not merely places to eat, but vibrant hubs where people come together to create lasting togetherness.

Closer to nature X IONIQ 5 | For many, getting close to nature and away from everything else is a way of celebrating life. Some celebrations are personal. They take you far from others, and into your own space. A drive into nature in a car like IONIQ 5 doesn't just leave the world behind, it also powers everything that makes the celebrations better.

A million lights X CRETA N Line | Millions of diyas are lit up along the ghats of Varanasi on the night of Dev Diwali. It is said that these lights guide the gods to earth. But for people, the spectacle becomes even richer because the diyas take the shape of what they love the most. It's a surreal time.

Celebrating a union X ALCAZAR | With opulence at the heart of Indian weddings, being part of one is to experience India at its best. Colourfully decorated venues, processions with elephants and horses, dancing on the streets, endless ceremonies, and great food. It's a celebration like no other where families and friends live it up.

Celebrations that drive India 2025

A drive through India is a journey through a land where life is an unending celebration. Big and small, rooted in culture or created in the moment, every corner here offers its own flavour of festivities, rituals, and customs. For almost three decades, Hyundai has been part of this journey. Often, taking people to where celebrations are. At times, even shaping them. This year, join us as we travel through a few of the many moments of celebrations that unite our great country, India.
